

Robert L. Wallace, Independent Candidate for Mayor of Baltimore Endorses Joe Biden for President

June 19, 2020

Baltimore, Maryland – Robert L. Wallace, who is seeking to become the next mayor of Baltimore as an Independent candidate, has endorsed former Vice President Joe Biden for President of the United States. In a letter to the Wallace for Mayor Campaign Committee, Robert Wallace stated:

“Even though I am not a member of the Democratic party and am running as an Independent in the mayoral election in Baltimore City, it is clear to me that Mr. Biden is a leader who will work to bring our country together and not tear us apart for political gain. Former Vice President Biden appreciates the enormous value that cities like Baltimore contribute to American society and the economy. There is no doubt in my mind that Mr. Biden will provide the leadership, the temperament, and the resources necessary to help the cities of America address the issues of economic development, police misconduct, educational excellence, economic inequality, mental illness, and homelessness. As the new mayor, I would look forward to creating a mutually beneficial partnership with President Biden and the Governor of Maryland, Larry Hogan, growing Baltimore's economy in a way that will create thousands of new jobs during my first term in office. I welcome the day when the President of the United States will be an ally and friend of Baltimore City instead of an unwanted distraction.”

About Robert L. Wallace

Robert L. Wallace is a native Baltimorean, an author, business owner, entrepreneur, and community leader. He was raised in the South Baltimore neighborhood of Cherry Hill, where he consistently overcame numerous social and economic obstacles and refused to accept failure and mediocrity. His rags-to-riches story led him to become a successful business leader with a 40-year proven track record of success. He is an internationally recognized author and entrepreneurial expert who has mentored innovators and business leaders from around the world.

Robert Wallace wants what is best for the City of Baltimore and for his fellow residents. He is now running for mayor to bring real and lasting change to Baltimore (www.WallaceforMayor.com). He is not a career politician. His experience working for industry leaders such as IBM, DuPont and Procter & Gamble has made him an expert on economic development, strategic partnerships, emerging markets, and entrepreneurship. He is no stranger to community leadership at all levels and has worked on numerous commissions and boards, both locally and statewide. Bob is the founder of three Baltimore-based companies: BITHGROUP Technologies Inc., Bithenergy Inc., and EntreTeach Learning Systems LLC.

As a passionate community leader and devoted church elder who believes in the intersection of spirituality and business success, Robert has built global relationships that have translated into profitable AND socially impactful connections - exemplifying his personal mission, "Do Well While Doing Good."

###